

ORTHO-BIONOMY®
Association of Canada

Code of Ethics

1. I will strive to maintain the highest standard of professional work and to improve my training, skills and standards.
2. I will respect my clients and be professional, ethical, and moral in my conduct with them.
3. I will clarify the conduct and principles of Ortho-Bionomy and differentiate Ortho-Bionomy from other methods used to preserve the integrity of the work.
4. I will respect the right of privacy of my clients, never disclosing or discussing information about their sessions unless required by law.
5. I will not offer or claim knowledge of any other therapies for which I am not qualified or trained.
6. I will never publicly slander or belittle a member of my profession, or any other healthcare profession.
7. I will use the Association's trademarks within the established guidelines, and I understand that incorrect usage is not ethical.
8. If I plan to resign my membership in the Association, I will notify the Association one month prior to my resignation.
9. I will make this Code of Ethics available to anyone employed by me.
10. If the integrity of Ortho-Bionomy is compromised, I shall make the Association aware of any misconduct. My own transgression of this Code of Ethics may necessitate surrendering my membership.
11. I will display a copy of this Code of Ethics in my work area where it is clearly visible to all.
12. I will abide by and adhere to the standards and policies established by the Association.

Pledge

I will conduct myself professionally, truthfully and responsibly to the public.
I will treat every individual with loving kindness and understanding, meeting and honoring them wherever they are in time and space.
